COMPANY PROFILE

Incipient Corp. is a technology consulting group focused on serving medium to large companies with a supply chain backbone.

Specializing in inventory and order management across Food & Beverage, Pharma, Cannabis, Transportation, Consumer Goods, and Healthcare domains; Incipient helps customers leverage modern technology strategies in a rapidly changing digital landscape to streamline processes and improve customer experiences.

MISSION

As a true, IT Partner, we believe people drive innovation. We work hand-in-hand with our clients to deeply understand their business and identify the root challenges to reimagine the way they do business, rather than replicating their existing business in a new technology solution.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Business Advisory

Transformation starts with the people and how they view the business vs. technology challenges. Our business consulting services go beyond our client's needs to ensure we provide a digital roadmap that aligns people, processes, and technology to enable our clients to make the right decisions for success.

Proof of Concepts

Drive innovation through proactive, measurable progression by leveraging POCs. We pride ourselves on being agile from Day 1; whether you have complex challenges, multi-dimensional needs or are looking to assess new technology, we will clarify all the variables by ensuring the hard part is solved first.

Supply Chain and Logistics

Centralize and streamline your supply chain by leveraging our team of experts specializing in the deployment of niche solutions such as track and trace, sourcing, manufacturing, delivery & logistics, returns management, remote training & support and compliance standards (FDA, OSHA, HIPPA, METRC).

Experience Innovation

Reimagine the way you do business by implementing cognitive (AI,ML,iOT) and interactive (VR/AR) technologies to drive efficiency and growth. Our R&D unit provides industry-leading insights and expertise through a collaborative approach to help our clients capitalize on the opportunities these unique technologies provide.

WHY INCIPIENT CORP?

Entrepreneurial Roots

Coming from humble beginnings and working in the service industry first, Incipient talent has cultivated an intrapreneurial spirit that enables them to look at the client's business from the inside out with an accurate understanding of all moving parts.

Led by Empathy

People are the source of innovation, not technology. With compassion and consideration for all client stakeholders, our talent identifies the root challenges across the organization to create a precise alignment of people, processes, and technology.

Value Driven Outcomes

Each initiative starts with a desired outcome or objective, which our talent reverse engineers to uncover impactful approaches to achieve the desired outcomes while identifying additional value that can be realized in parallel to the core objective.

Transformation Partner

As a true IT partner, we treat all our clients and their needs uniquely. Our collaborative approach enables our talent to become an extension of our clients infrastructure and help drive change from within by proactively engaging in meaningful discussions.

Homegrown Software

Building off of your existing software, we can help you leverage scalable technologies like .NET, Java, PHP, and Python to create your own solution that is custom to your business, processes, and needs.

WHAT DID YOU FIND MOST IMPRESSIVE ABOUT INCIPIENT?

“ We have received high praise on the talent that Incipient provided us from our employees and customers. Dedicated to long-term relationships, they do not shy away from creativity, rather they pride themselves on delivering powerful, unique talent which enabled us to achieve all of our desired outcomes

- Jason Grenham, Leader In Automotive Consulting

“ We had a young and dynamic team. One of the reasons we have a relationship with Incipient is because of their talent's skilled and niche capabilities. We don't have experts in the more modern area of development, but their team is equipped to provide their clients with this type of emerging technology experts.

- Jagadish Mishra, Director of Business Systems

“ I think they are wise beyond their years, and they listen, to what you your desired outcome is and then augment it with their wisdom to define the best approach and solutions. They clearly appreciate a lot of different people's backgrounds and empower individuals to use their expertise as an advantage.

- Kevin Cooper, Senior Director of Communications
